Police Dept. has been getting charged a $75 late fee because checks have been received late for payments for their gas card invoices with WEX Bank. Lieutenant Shaughnessy would like to make this an automatic withdrawal to avoid the late charges. The Board approved automatic withdrawal for this use as long as it continues to be monitored.

Monahan from Central NH Regional Planning updated the Board on the project. He said it was great working with the Planning Board and the Select Board on this project. He is looking for the Board to sign the East and West resolutions which give authority to the Town Administrator to submit the applications. The Board motioned to approve both the East and West Resolution and authorized both of the resolutions.

Fire Department Selectmen Andrew Pinard went over the Fire Department gear inventory, what is needed for first responders, and a quote for new gear. Andrew would like to see the individual response to events in a spreadsheet. There is approximately $35,000 remaining in the 2021 Fire Department budget, however, there are still invoices against 2021 that have not yet been received. Selectmen Mel Pfiefle and Andrew Pinard expressed frustration with the unplanned nature of this expense. The Board approved the purchase of fire gear in the amount of $35,079.00

The unanswerable: When will the coronavirus settle down? On this late-January morning a new omicron variant is appearing in Europe, Asia, California, and Washington State. Vigilance and risk assessment continue at unpredictable intervals.

Immense and enduring gratitude to all who provide education, healthcare, food, safety, road maintenance, and the many services that keep our community at work. Parents, you are heroes.

And a huge shout out to the volunteers keeping Bradford's boards and committees moving forward. It takes all kinds of skills to guide the governance of this small town. If, with everything modern life demands, you find you have a talent to share with the town, please consider a term in one of the open positions listed on page one.

Also, in this February edition:

- ♥ Completion of the phrase "Love is..." from Bridge staff and others,
- ♥ Anne's lovely drawings throughout the paper,
- ♥ Devin's summary of board and committee activity in "Monthly Briefing"
- ▼ Town Board and Committee positions open for voting on March 8th,
- ♥ What keeps Lois busy recycling at the Transfer Station,
- ▼ I talk to Bruce Storm about becoming the Town Moderator,
- ♥ Plan your e-bike purchase with help from Laura's article,
- ♥ Ellen's reflection on life with COVID and library news in Library Lantern,
- ♥ Planned restoration at the Bradford Center Meeting House,

And the advertising that brings a free Bridge every month. Please support these businesses and services as often as possible.

Here's to a very enjoyable Ground Hog Day, Valentine's Day, Super Bowl Sunday, and any other winter festivities!!

With Love.

Kathleen Bigford, Editor M And all the Heart Throbs at the Bradford Bridge

Dear Editor:

While Congress continues to go back and forth on the Reconciliation Bill, we are left struggling with costly, extreme weather-related disaster after disaster. We all know that fossil fuel emissions are to blame for causing these disasters to become more extreme and more frequent. So, the simple solution is to reduce/eliminate the use of these harmful products. Easier said than done. But there is a way.

Enter Carbon Fee and Dividend (CFD). With CFD, fossil fuel producers pay a fee at the source or port (if imported), and then this revenue is distributed equally to citizens as monthly dividends. And even though CFD would cause prices to increase, estimates are that most households would get back more in dividends than they would pay out in higher prices (https://citizensclimatelobby.org/household-impact-study/).

Most economists support CFD (https://www.econstatement.org). They support it because it's quick, effective, and gets us where we need to be by 2050 - net zero (https://environmentamericacenter.org/feature/amc/carbon-pricing-101).

Biden has pledged that by 2030 the US will reduce carbon emissions by 50%. But climate-related provisions currently in the Reconciliation Bill would not get us to this goal. But CFD would.

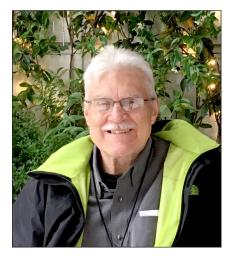

If we are going to meet President Biden's goal, stop extreme weather-related disasters, save lives, money and the planet, we need Congress to act now and pass CFD.

To learn more about the CFD, check out carboncashback.org.

Barbara Southard Bradford, NH

Introducing Bradford's Interim Town Moderator

It was a pleasure to chat with Bruce Storm at the home he and his wife Maria have beside the West Branch of the Warner River on Fairgrounds Road in Bradford. Bruce volunteered for and has been appointed Bradford's Interim Town Moderator. Our conversation touched on Bruce's background and his plans for the duties of this important job.

The Storms have owned property on Fairgrounds Road in Bradford since 2002, becoming full-time residents in 2019. "This is the best place for us," says Bruce. Although they are adjusting to not having a convenience store "around the corner," they were attracted to Bradford by the people, lifestyle, surroundings, and proximity to services.

Bruce was born and raised in Buffalo, NY, "That's a story unto itself," he says. He holds a Bachelor's Degree from St. Lawrence University, a Master's Degree in English from State University of New York, Buffalo, and an EdD from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. His career was as an educator teaching in private and public schools. He has served as an associate superintendent and as superintendent in school districts in Massachusetts and Connecticut. Retired now, he misses the work he did with students and teachers and the many decisions he made on their behalf.

Along the way Bruce was active in town governance as Selectman in Branford, CT. The "town meeting" form of government is familiar, and Bruce feels his experience in school districts and town and city government will lend itself to the Moderator job in Bradford. "The tricky situations I've been in have taught me how to make decisions. I have the skills to work through an issue."

"[Town Moderator] will give me an opportunity to do some good for the town and at the same time fulfill a need to be part of things and instrumental in some elements in what's going on."

He admits, "I'm a little nervous about it. I've had political experience. I am familiar with Robert's Rules of Order in a way that anybody who has had to live under their control. I've refreshed myself a little bit and have heard from folks to be prepared for certain questions."

He feels the best way to communicate points of view is through listening and will encourage respect and kindness. "It's my intention to be as objective as possible," he says.

Thank you Bruce for sharing your time, experience, and skills as Bradford's Interim Town Moderator. And for your willingness to become a candidate for this job. All the best as you steer us through Town Meeting and elections.

Donna is very knowledgeable and experienced which is helpful when difficult decisions need to be made. I like working with Donna because she is a good communicator, seeks input, provides guidance and she cares about her clients".

II East Main Street Warner, New Hampshire 603.456.3556 Mon.-Fri. 9am-6pm & Sat. 9am-1pm Love Your Meetinghouse

The Bradford Center Meetinghouse is not only a historic landmark, it's also where we get our community together to enjoy culture and celebrate. This past year has been tough on both fronts. Due to COVID-19, we haven't had any events to bring money in the door, and we really miss seeing our neighbors at the events.

We need your financial support!

You wouldn't think it, but upkeep for the Meetinghouse is expensive. The Friends of the Bradford Center Meetinghouse is a volunteer group of neighbors whose mission is to preserve the integrity of the building and make it available for community enjoyment. We often offer free events and always keep any ticket costs to a minimum.

However, our annual cost is $6,000, most of which is to cover the building insurance. On top of that, we have performed major upkeep, including interior and exterior painting, steeple and roof repair, and foundation support in recent decades. We don't receive any tax money, relying solely on donations.

Now it is time to repair the original windows to keep the New England weather out and preserve the historic aesthetics of the Meetinghouse. Restoring the original windows comes at a steep price though: $30,000. We are applying for a grant which will defray $10,000 of this cost if we are awarded it, but we will have to raise the rest ourselves.

New website for events and donations.

We would really appreciate your support to get us a little closer to that goal. We've used our pandemic days to create a new website: Visit www.bradford. center to see the upcoming events, signup for the mailing list, and to make a donation.

Upcoming concerts:

We have two big concerts on the books for 2022 already. We are looking for sponsors for both events. We need funds to move a piano, provide a tent, and help pay for the musicians. Contact <code>lbuchar@gmail.com</code>, for more details, or donate through our website.

- July 9th at 7 pm Lettvin Music Series featuring classical pianist Will Ogmundson
- July 22nd at 6 pm Nick's Other Band family rock and roll concert

Thanks to all who have helped in recent years to keep Bradford Center Meetinghouse alive. Many townspeople enjoyed our outdoor offerings during the pandemic. We are eager to see you all in this bright new year.

Is anyone feeling Covid fatigue? I certainly am. The last two weeks have been stressful and straining for my family, and I imagine for many people. We continue to get daily reminders of how many students are out of school due to Covid, that we need to check daily for symptoms, and to keep kids out of school until symptoms have resolved. Planning for anything requires diligence in terms of mask requirements, vaccination requirements, and potential for the need to cancel last minute. This is life in a pandemic. An ever present, low level buzz of stress humming through everything I do. I felt so hopeful when the vaccine was out and it felt like there might be an end in sight. But now, after the second variant, and booster, and the virus still seems rampant, the light at the end of the tunnel looks further away.

What continues to buoy me are the people and pleasures in my life. Getting outside with my silly dog. Working at the library, and connecting with people about books, movies, and ideas. Learning something new, I'm taking a philosophy class through Adventures in Learning.

February at the library will include a virtual program on February 24th at 7pm called African American Soldiers and Sailors of New Hampshire during the American Revolution. This is brought to you by Friends of BML and NH Humanities Council. You can sign up by emailing bmlibraryfriends@gmail.com.

Book group will meet on Wednesday, February 23rd at 7pm. We will be reading Intimacies by Katie Kitamura. The story is about a woman who moves to the Hague to be a translator for the court. It's about her work translating a case for a leader who has committed atrocities on his people. It's about connection and relationships and the various levels of intimacies she experiences.

Story time is on Mondays at 10am. Snacks offered afterwards. Laurie Buchar will be returning to the library to run story time and be in the library on Mondays. Welcome back, Laurie!

On February 21st we will be closed for President's day.

African American Soldiers and Sailors

Join the Friends of the Library for a virtual presentation of African American Soldiers and Sailors of New Hampshire During the American Revolution.

Glenn Knoblock, an independent scholar, and author of 15 books and over 100 articles will inform us of one of the most interesting aspects of the American Revolution, the role played by African Americans in the fight for independence. This virtual event will be held on Thursday, February 24th at 7pm.

Both free African Americans and those that were enslaved were key in manning state militias and Continental Army units, as well as serving on the high seas in the Navy and on privately armed ships. Indeed, their service to the colonies was crucial in a conflict that lasted nearly seven years. Prohibited from serving in military units and largely considered "undesirable elements," how is it that these African-American soldiers came to fight for the cause of liberty. even when their own personal liberty was not guaranteed? Glenn Knoblock examines the history of African-American soldiers' service during the war, including how and why they enlisted, their interaction with white soldiers, service on the battlefields, how they were perceived by the enemy and the officers under whom they served, and their treatment after the war.

Please email bmlibraryfriends@gmail. com to register for this event. We will confirm your reservation and the Zoom link will be emailed back to you closer to the day of the event. If you have questions, you can also email them to the address above or call Connie Brookes at 603-938-5112.

A Few Words

Thoughts ringing into the new year. What will I change? A shorter haircut, perhaps? Giving away more books. Swapping out an unhealthy snack. Listening to way more music, hiking further, traveling more. Being quiet, which may not be possible. But in a new year, all things are possible. Snow covered woods for skiing, a spring that will burst through with unending florescent greenery and then, summer. I wish for a summer full of blooming Dahlias, cherry red tomatoes, blue lake swims and spending time with friends. Good friends.

TRANSFER STATION SINCE STATION

Kept Us Busy in 2021!

The Bradford Transfer Station and Recycling Center literally transferred and recycled tons of waste and unwanted items last year. We remind residents and tell new residents what we recycle, and the benefits are numerous. Here are just a few examples:

- We receive between one-half and two yards of compost on open days. When people bring their compostable organic waste to the transfer station in a container, it is a selfless act. Although it takes more effort and time to collect the organic waste, it is good for the earth, others can use the resulting compost, and the town saves tipping fees (Bradford pays to empty the compactor) because there is less household waste.
- More residents are bringing their outdated and exhausted batteries to the transfer station. This thoughtful action has a big positive environmental impact because there are many negative chemicals in batteries that should be recycled properly. Again, recycling batteries saves tipping fees.

• The transfer station has received more used and expired oils and oil filters. Another tipping fee savings is realized, and someone in town is using the oil to heat their shop.

Ken and I will continue to tenaciously remind everyone about the many recycling programs we manage at the transfer station because there are so many benefits to recycling. 2022 promises to be another busy and productive year!

The Rise of e-bikes

You may have seen some strange looking bikes around the area this summer. It's one of those things where you find yourself taking a closer look because there is something different about that bike. These are e-bikes or electric bikes and they are really taking off in the United States. Last fall I found myself with more time to look into e-bikes. I had lots of questions. I talked with friends, had some excellent guidance from a couple of local "bike whisperers", and kept wondering if I was just being a wimp and researching a glorified scooter. It took a while to work it all through.

There were several things driving my decision;

- I have always loved to bike, but as I got older the hills of Bradford were becoming more of a barrier. I had some health issues and needed time and some support to get myself back into shape.
- I could utilize the bike on trips into town and save some gas.
- In the future, perhaps I could take on part of my long daily commute using the e-bike and leave the car on the outskirts of Concord. I would reduce the use of gas, the wear and tear on my car and take small steps to reducing my own carbon footprint. These were all compelling reasons.

Last spring as we began emerging from the long winter shutdown, I purchased the e-bike, sight unseen from an all-online vendor in North Carolina. I had consulted with the company through the winter and they answered all of my questions. They also helped fit me to the right frame and bike size. These bikes will have a different fit than a regular bike so getting advice on fitting the frame and tire size to your full height and stand over height is very important. They recommended a step through frame for me and I was skeptical. When the bike arrived it was exactly what I needed.

Is an e-bike a glorified scooter? No, e-bikes provide pedal assist. They have regular gears and they have levels of battery powered pedal assist. You can choose to have the battery provide an easy ride, or you can set the assist to be much more challenging. It's up to you. The more battery you use the less distance you can go. I get about 50 miles of distance on one charge. If I use the battery at the highest level of assist all of the time, I might get 15 miles per charge. At first, the learning curve was a little daunting, but after a few rides I understood how everything worked and now I am right at home on the bike.

Upon arrival the bike needed a few adjustments and the support people helped me get through it. The bike was everything I expected and more. I put over 500 miles on the bike this summer and explored many beautiful places in Bradford and surrounding towns. No hill could stop me and suddenly I was loving my time on a bike again.

If you are considering an e-bike you will want to know the laws regarding them in New Hampshire. The NH Rails to Trails website covers much of this information to help you navigate where you can ride https://nhrtc.org/difference-between-trail-bikes-and-e-bikes/.

The actual NH RSA passed in 2019 can be found here https://legiscan.com/NH/text/HB148/id/1990574.

Another consideration is weight. Due to the battery, motor and electronics e-bikes are heavier than a regular bike. Mine weighs 62 pounds without the battery. It requires a more substantial bike rack to handle the weight. Most racks that handle the weight of e-bikes are attached via a receiver hitch on the car and are lower to the ground. This means you won't have to lift the bike completely off the ground to get it onto the rack.

There are many price points out there for e-bikes. There are mountain bike versions, commuter e-bikes and e-bikes designed to carry goods and materials in urban settings (think delivery services). I chose a mountain bike knowing I wanted to ride trails and handle the class six roads in the area. It was a good choice for me.

It would have been nice to try an e-bike before buying, but at the time there were no options. Last summer, Vital Communities https://vitalcommunities.org/ and the New London Energy Committee collaborated with thirteen Energy Committees from the Upper Valley to offer free e-bike loans in each town for a week or two.

People from Bradford were able to sign up for a time slot to try the bikes in New London. There is talk of trying to do the same program next summer. Keep an eye out for an announcement if you would like to try a ride before you buy.

Another great source for learning about e-bikes is YouTube. There are so many videos with helpful hints and information to answer your questions.

I am very happy with the e-bike I purchased and recommend considering one if it sounds like it will help you get out there and ride. The health benefits have been great and I see wildlife all over the place on the remote roads of Bradford. It is fun! I can't wait to get back out there next spring and hope to see other riders out there as well.

Abatement Appeal The Board approved a motion to give a resident an extension until June 30 to discuss his appeals.

Mileage Rate for 2022 The Board approved a motion to adjust the mileage reimbursement rate from 54 cents a mile to 58.5 cents a mile.

Wages and Vacation Time The Board voted to pay retroactive merit wages and approved a limited pay out of unused vacation time.

Dump Truck The Board approved a motion to approve the purchase of a 10-wheel dump truck from ATG Of Westminster in Westminster VT in the amount of $60,000. Purchase includes the truck, a sander, wing, fixing the windshield and the required inspection. The Town will receive $23,978 from insurance for the truck that was totaled, the remaining $36,022 to come from the highway department's 2022 operating budget.

Warrant Articles $1,566,203 is the bottom-line number given by CIP (Capital Improvement Plan) but gets adjusted by $740,000 for some of the items that get funded by the trust funds. CIP numbers were reviewed, and the board suggested the following: reducing the amount to be put into the 2003 Fire Department Repair Fund from $5000 to $2000 contingent upon the painting article passing; repurposing the 2015 Town Equipment Repair Expendable Trust Fund to include purchase of new or used equipment, and to increase the funding from $10,000 to $45,000 contingent upon the passage of the dump body article; removing the $1000 for the 2009 Salt and Fuel Expendable Trust.
